37

38 A structured settlement is a guaranteed stream of payments with 39 a fixed rate of return (interest) over a preestablished period of 40 time. Structured settlements are often designed to provide financial

1 security and certainty. Selling or transferring your rights to 2 payments under a structured settlement and, as a result, to a future
3 stream of payments, has serious financial consequences that should 4 not be ignored.

5 You are entitled under the law to have independent legal and 6 financial advice before entering into any transfer agreement. The 7 cost of this advice up to $1,500.00 will be paid by the company to 8 which you are considering transferring your rights to payments.
9 The purchasing company's accountants, actuaries, and attorneys
10 may not advise you. A sale or transfer of your rights will eliminate 11 your claim or right to receive any future payments under the 12 structured settlement. You will have transferred those rights to the 13 purchasing company. You are advised to enter into a transfer
14 agreement only after careful consideration of the consequences
15 of entering into a transfer agreement and after receiving competent 16 legal and financial advice.

17 Your current structured settlement provides a guaranteed rate 18 of interest of ____ percent, with regular payments of $____ every 19 week, month, or year, for a total value over time of $____. Your 20 current structured settlement may also have significant tax benefits 21 if it was the result of a qualified assignment as the result of a 22 personal injury settlement such that both the interest that you are 23 receiving as well as all of your future payments made within the 24 structured settlement may be tax free.

25 Over the course of your settlement, you are guaranteed payments
26 that will total $____. The current present value of this stream of 27 payments, in other words, the amount needed in today's dollars 28 to buy the rights to those payments at the same fixed rate of 29 interest, is $____. The current amount being offered to you to 30 purchase your rights to this stream of income is $____; this amount 31 reflects a significant discount in the present and future values of 32 this stream of income at a discounted rate of interest of ____ 33 percent.

34
35 (g) The court shall retain continuing jurisdiction to interpret and 36 monitor the implementation of the transfer agreement as justice 37 requires.
